BATTLE IS REPORTED TO RAGE AS GUARDS ENCOUNTER CHINESE

Fighting Along Disputed Frontiers of Jehol and Chahar—Fresh Demands Presented by Japanese Army Leader—Moscow Paper's Correspondent Reports Many Chinese Killed

TOKIO, June 26 (AP).—A fierce battle was reported under way today between eighty Manchukuan frontier guards and nearly ten times that number of Chinese soldiers from Chahar Province.

Advices to the Manchukuan War Office here, which confirmed similar reports to the Renko News Agency, were that fighting was raging along the disputed Jehol-Chahar frontiers north of Tushinkuo.

Renko's dispatches from Hsinking, capital of Manchukuo, said the clash was the second between the two armed bodies.

A larger Manchukuan force was ordered to the site of the battle, Renko was informed.

MAKES FRESH DEMANDS
The battle, coming just when it appeared the Sino-Japanese crisis in North China was subsiding, led Major-General Kenji Dohara, the army's leading political negotiator, to present fresh demands "for establishment of peace and order in Chahar Province."

These demands, it was reported, included withdrawal of all Chinese troops in Chahar south of the Great Wall.

SAVS HUNDREDS KILLED
MOSCOW, June 26 (Havas).—Fifteen hundred Chinese insurgents and twenty-five Japanese soldiers have been killed in recent skirmishes in North China, the Chinese correspondent of Pravda, official organ of the Communist Party central committee, said today.

THREATS MADE AS MILLS OPEN

Wives of Operators Receive Dynamite Caps Through Mail in Portland

PORTLAND, June 26 (AP).—Dynamite caps and implied threats, contained in letters to the wives of two Portland lumbermen, today, had stuck a new note in the Pacific Northwest lumber strike tonight.

Tension in the Portland area was markedly increased, despite the peaceful "slow belt" reopening of five of the city's nine mills.

CROWD DISPERSED
The letters and the dispersal of a crowd of 500 at Tacoma today marked the only unusual incidents of the day, days of which had been viewed with foreboding after 2,000 members of the Sawmill and Timber Workers' Union had voted a thunderous "No" to proposals to return to work under the employers' preferred plan.

The dynamite caps and notes were received by Mrs. H. C. Howes, wife of the secretary-treasurer of the Inman-Poulsen Lumber Company, which placed about twenty-five men at work today, and Mrs. George Mooney, wife of the yard superintendent.

CRUDE LETTERS
Mrs. Howes' letter read: "The mill better not start with scabs. Might be all right first day. Later at home."

The letter to Mrs. Mooney read: "If mill starts with scabs—your home, your hubby."

Both notes had been hand-printed and were similar in characteristics. Postal inspectors were investigating. It was not announced whether guards would be placed around the Howes and Mooney homes tonight.

Last Appeals Made Before Voting Today

SAINT JOHN, N.B., June 26 (AP).—Plea, charge and defence sounded finally throughout New Brunswick tonight as ninety-eight candidates ended their campaigns for election to the Legislature. Premier L. P. D. Tilley was among those who went "on the air" with a concluding appeal, while the Liberal leader, A. A. Dymally, spoke from platforms at Chipman and Miramichi. Allotment of forty-eight seats is at stake in tomorrow's voting.

ANNOUNCED VERDICT BEFORE THE JUDGES

ROCKVILLE, Md., June 26 (AP).—Two reporters for The Washington Herald were sentenced to serve ninety days in jail and the American Newspaper, Inc., was fined $5,000 today for publishing the verdict in a murder conspiracy trial before it was announced by the judges.

Relief Strikers Hire Trucks for Trek to Ottawa

Will Avoid Clash With Police by Deserting Box-cars for Highway Travel—Make Appeal for Funds to Procure Transportation Out of Regina—Prime Minister Is Criticized

REGINA, June 27 (AP).—Relief camp strikers went back to an early suggestion today and before nightfall a cavalcade of trucks and automobiles is expected to move out of Regina as the 2,000 men from British Columbia, Alberta and Saskatchewan resume their trek to Ottawa.

Arthur Evans, one of the trek leaders and a spokesman when the strikers' delegation interviewed the Federal Government at Ottawa, announced the plans to resort to trucks and automobiles to dodge a clash with police if an attempt to board freight trains was made.

GERMANS WILL ALL GET JOBS

BERLIN, June 26 (AP).—A decree passed by the German Cabinet this evening makes all Germans liable to six months' service in building roads and canals, military drilling, farm work and the like.

The labor conscription law, while it mentioned no age limits, announced the class of 1915 would be called first and volunteers eighteen years or older accepted.

ARE NOW JUDGING AMATEUR GARDENS

Special Committees of Horticultural Society Making Selections—First List Completed

Special committees of the Victoria Horticultural Society are now at work making a survey of city gardens in order to make a selection of what members consider are the most attractive amateur gardens in the various sections.

The first list of best gardens in the Fairfield area was submitted to the committee in charge of that district yesterday and the five best are given as follows: C. A. Steele, 57 How Street; George I. Warren, 1244 Dallas Road; W. H. Wightman, 35 Wellington Street; B. H. Anderson, 724 Linden Avenue; and W. A. Turner, 1619 Pinewood.

GOAL IN FEW MONTHS

Through these two measures Nacdon hopes it will be able within a few months to announce fulfillment of its goal to provide work and bread for everyone.

War in Ethiopia Appears Certain As Mission Ends

Eden Fails to Move Resolve of Mussolini to Enforce Control

ITALIAN MANDATE IS INSISTED UPON

ROME, June 26 (AP).—Anthony Eden, of Great Britain, left for Paris today, his talks with Premier Benito Mussolini ended and prospects for peace in East Africa apparently no brighter.

Official sources indicated the British minister for League of Nations affairs had not succeeded in changing Mr. Duce's contention Italy could accept only "complete solution" of her controversy with Ethiopia.

This solution, it was understood, would involve establishment of an Italian mandate or protectorate over the African empire. Failing that, force would be used to bring Emperor Haile Selassie to terms.

The young British diplomat departed at noon for Paris, where he will resume conversations with Premier Pierre Laval, begun last week.

WAR INEVITABLE

The view was expressed in diplomatic quarters the only recourse left to Captain Eden was to find some way for Italy to retain membership in the League of Nations should war

Laval Hints at Possibility of Accord Between France and Germany

SENATE COMMITTEE PLEDGED TO SECRECY

PARIS, June 26 (AP).—Premier Pierre Laval declared tonight he was willing to negotiate with Adolf Hitler on a "peace arrangement" for submission to all European powers, if it appeared "really possible."

MUST BE SEVERAL

Laval's statement concerned a previous remark at a press banquet that, "if an accord became possible with Berlin I could not hesitate to conclude it, but for such an accord to come about it must not be between two but among several" (powers).

Social Credit Plan Quickly Voted Down In House at Ottawa

Motion by Alfred Speakman Gets Little Support From Members—McGeer, Douglas and Other System Advocates Harm Cause, Speaker Says

OTTAWA, June 26.—Social credit flashed across the Federal political stage for a few brief minutes today but was crushed under the combined voting strength of Liberals and Conservatives in the House of Commons.

Alfred Speakman, United Farmer member for Red Deer, proposed a motion to reorganize the financial system along social credit lines, the Dominion assuming control of public credit, financing public works with printed money and social dividends to all persons at the age of sixty to increase the purchasing power of the nation.

TURNED DOWN

Speaker J. L. Bowman put the motion to the House and it was dropped under a thunderous wave of "no's" from Liberals and Conservatives. Progressives did not muster enough members to force a recorded vote.

The Red Deer member claimed there were no valid arguments against reorganization of the financial system if Canada ever hoped to

OPINIONS DIFFER

Various schools of financial reform in Canada headed by McGeer, Douglas and Aberhart were the greatest obstacles to financial reform, Mr. Speakman said. "Sometimes they hate each other worse than they hate the common enemy. They are more eager to establish the downfall of the other than they are of the present financial system."

He suggested they stop quarrelling among themselves over details and attack the common objective.

Mr. Speakman presented two possible alternatives to financial reform—Communism or Social Credit. He claimed Canada could not continue with the majority of its people impoverished in the midst of plenty all their lives—their purchasing power must be stepped up.

Government had come like a "bolt from the blue," and if the Province cared to change its attitude, the bill could be withdrawn or amended when it reached the Senate. So far the Province had not advanced any proposal except the suggestion that debts due the Provincial Government should not be subject to adjustment. The Federal Government could not agree to this.

Hope that the Attorney-General would change his view was expressed by Harry J. Barber (Conservative, Fraser Valley), who said the act had worked well in British Columbia. He believed the Dominion Government had no alternative but to take the action it had taken.

"NO BAD BLOOD"

The political complexion of the Provincial Government had nothing to do with the bill, said Mr. Rhodes, and there was "no bad blood" between the two Governments.

Letters for publication under this head must deal with the problems of Vancouver Island. They must be confined to 200 words and bear the name and address of the writer.

BRIDGE SEYMOUR NARROWS

Sir,—There is only one thing that will mean the progress of Vancouver Island from one end to the other, and that is the bridging of Seymour Narrows. Like the All-Red line, this has been the dream of statesmen for years. A nation's destiny, like the destiny of man, is the coming true of dreams. Link us with the Mainland and we shall attain our independence and our place in the Dominion as an Island of the finest deep sea ports in the world.

"Islands," wrote Goldwin Smith, "seem destined by nature for freedom." Let us be free to carry out the destiny which was meant for us, as guardian of this country on the Pacific, and first and last port of call for all ships.

THREE SENTENCED FOR EXTORTION

One Pleads Guilty and Two Are Convicted After Trial At Vancouver

VANCOUVER, June 26.—Three men convicted of extortion were sentenced to jail by Judge J. C. McIntosh in County Court today. They were alleged to have demanded $300 from Harry Roberts, of Vancouver, and to have threatened him in the event of his failure to comply with their demands.

Stanley Murray, twenty-six, who pleaded guilty, was sentenced to one year, while Anthony Waytko, twenty-two, was sentenced to the time he had spent in jail and Alexander Janis, thirty-six, to three months. Waytko and Janis were convicted after trial.

RELIEF STRIKERS TREK TO OTTAWA

expenses. When the collection was taken, it totaled $163.65.

How much it will cost for the strikers to charter trucks and automobiles for the journey was indefinite. Besides asking for cash donations, Evans and other strike leaders asked for owners of trucks to either loan them to the strikers or go along as drivers. He voiced appreciation of public support given and urged still greater support.

AVOIDING CLASH

"It would be foolish for us to accept the gauntlet thrown down by the Federal authorities and challenge the forces of the State," said Evans when referring to the Federal ban on riding freight trains. "But we are going to Ottawa with your help just the same."

"Yes," he added, "we are going out of this town. We need trucks to proceed to Winnipeg where our forces will be augmented to a great extent. We hope the trucks will be available at a reasonable price. Our determination is to reach Ottawa in every bit as great today as when we started out from Vancouver."

Three interviews with the Saskatchewan Government and two interviews with civic officials were held yesterday in an attempt to win aid in leaving Regina. But one strike registered for the camp awaiting them at Lumsden, thirty miles north of here. It was established by the Federal Government to house the strikers until arrangements could be made to transport them to their homes.

PAID FOR MEALS

The strikers also dipped into their funds for their meals yesterday. Declining meal tickets awaiting them at the registration office, they issued their own meal tickets which were redeemed in cash from the restaurant later in the day. Their funds were obtained through tag days held in Vancouver, Kamloops, Calgary, Moose Jaw and Regina.

"Can you all put up a dollar to help these men to Ottawa?" East asked the mass meeting last night. He said Prime Minister R. B. Bennett had "abrogated the constitution by virtually declaring martial law." He charged the Prime Minister with seeking to establish a Fascist regime in Canada with himself as dictator.

"Do you want Fascism?" he asked. "If you don't, then pay the price and help these men to Ottawa where they will win their fight and our fight too. We must fight on for a new system, a true Kingdom of God," he declared.

By and large, we suppose the steadiest job until the world settles is making maps.

Cheese Must Be Served!

This business of law-making is going too far. Down in Wisconsin, Assemblyman James Sweeney (above) of Green Bay, thought the cheese business was a great institution, so he brought in a bill making it mandatory for all restaurants in that state to serve two-thirds of an ounce of cheese with every 25-cent meal. After much ado, in which the state assembly added an additional quantity of butter, the Senate finally passed it and Governor La Follette okayed it. Now restaurant owners are going to get even by serving Limburger and other odorous cheeses, since there is a fine or prison term if they don't obey the law.

Committee Is Told Winnipeg Exchange Big Gambling Den

Elimination of Futures Trading Applauded by Witness at Ottawa—Grain Pools Endorse Proposed Legislation—Want Price Guarantee

OTTAWA, June 26.—Endorsement by the wheat pools of the Government's proposal to create a Dominion Grain Board which would take complete control of the Prairie Provinces crop marketing, was rounded off this afternoon by George Bennett, member of the Alberta Wheat Pool Board. He declared one of the best things in the proposal was the elimination of futures speculation.

"I have been in the Winnipeg Exchange since 1912," Mr. Bennett said, "and I have no hesitation in saying it is chintzy. The price of these commodities stays stable, but our wheat, which is sold under the Grain Exchange system, fluctuates from day to day and often fluctuates greatly in a single day."

Mr. Bennett followed Paul Brett, representative of the Manitoba Pools, and L. C. Brouillette, of the Saskatchewan Pools. He said all three agreed the Government should place in the bill provision for the payment of a minimum price to the producer, the amount to be decided upon by the board and the Government. From his experience, he said, wheat could not be produced at less than 65 cents a bushel.

TO REVEAL TRADING

The committee meets tomorrow morning to hear evidence from George McIvor, assistant to John I. McFarland, general manager of the Canadian Co-operative Wheat Producers, Limited, who will be prepared to give details of Mr. McFarland's price-stabilizing operations with a Government-guaranteed bank account. It was anticipated the select committee dealing with the Grain Board measure would complete its activities tomorrow.

By the time investigation is over, there will be no doubt in the minds of the Western farmer a different system of selling our wheat is needed.

"We wonder why," Mr. Bennett said in a short brief, "if the buying and selling of options is the best way to sell wheat, the same should

OFFICE CHANGE IS AUTHORIZED

Consolidation of Civic Departments Finally to Be Completed at City Hall

The long-delayed structural changes in the City Hall, necessary to complete consolidation of four departments, was authorized by the City Council Tuesday night.

On the recommendation of the city controller, four fireproof filing cabinets will be purchased as a cost of $725, and structural changes will be made for which $1,000 was provided in the budget.

The city controller and treasurer's staff will be moved upstairs to the former assessor's office, and D. A. MacDonald's private office will be the one now used by the purchasing agent.

The purchasing agent will either be moved into the present committee room and the existing private office of Mr. MacDonald used as a committee room, or the purchasing agent transferred to Mr. MacDonald's present office. A private office also will be provided for George Okeil, city assessor and collector, so that he may interview property-holders in private.

Would Put Limits to Veto Power

OTTAWA, June 26.—A move to limit the veto power of the Senate in respect to bills which have passed the Commons, will be made by T. L. Church, Conservative Member for East Toronto. He proposes to place on the order paper of the Commons a notice of motion which will provide that after a bill has been passed twice by the Commons it becomes law in spite of Senate opposition.

NOW! An Air-Conditioned Refrigerator!

NO OBJECTIONABLE ODORS. NO DRYING OUT OF FOODS. GREATER ICE ECONOMY.

The cut-away illustration at left shows how vastly different is the construction of the "Coolerator." The "Coolerator" eliminates all food odors, as they are picked up by a continuous flow of air and passed through an air conditioning chamber, where they are completely absorbed and washed away. What a difference it makes in the condition of the food you place in the refrigerator. No drying out. No mingling of flavors. No covered dishes required and everything remains in its natural, fresh, juicy state.

Notice, too, the patented construction of the ice tray. The ice cake melts from the bottom up, leaving the top almost flat. Because the bottom only is exposed for refrigeration, the same constant cold temperature is maintained through the food compartment, whether the ice chamber is full or nearly empty. The result is that ice supply lasts much longer, with a corresponding saving. See the new "Coolerator" models here today. Modern designs in gleaming white Dulux. Beautiful and durable.

Fred Landsberg Camp In Saseenos Area Is Opened for Mothers

Bishop MacDonald Officiates at Ceremony and Refers to Passing of Valued Citizen Whose Name Is Perpetuated in Resort

R. T. Rev. John Hugh MacDonald, Bishop of Victoria, yesterday afternoon declared the Fred Landsberg Sunshine Camp for mothers and children officially open for the season. The camp is in Saseenos district, on Kaitasin Road, facing East Sooke Harbor.

F. E. Winslow, president of the Friendly Help Welfare Association, in introducing Bishop MacDonald, paid tribute to the many charitable works of the late Fred Landsberg, who conceived the idea of the camp ten years ago. The speaker regretted that Hon. J. W. Fordham Johnson, Lieutenant-Governor, had been unable to attend the last three camp openings. The seven-day camp, which opened yesterday, will have persons present, with bowed heads, remained silent for one minute in respect to the memory of Mr. Landsberg.

"I regret that the Lieutenant-Governor is not here to lend his dignity to the occasion," asserted Bishop MacDonald. "I shall be very glad to do all I can to further the interests of this camp. We all regret the passing of Fred Landsberg, for his loss is a great one to the community, and I can think of no more fitting tribute than naming Sunshine Camp after him."

THEIR REWARD

"If there was more charity between men and between communities and districts, there would be less need for work of this nature," the bishop continued. "As a clergyman I cannot help thinking how Almighty God would be pleased with works like this camp and how workers in its cause will be rewarded, now or in after life. I am glad to have this opportunity of thanking those who give splendid service to the community in works of this kind," he concluded, declaring the camp officially open. Bishop MacDonald was accompanied by Rev. Father C. T. Albury.

BOARD DINES AT PLATEAU

B. C. Nicholas Speaks on Tourist Trade to Guests Of Bureau

COURTENAY, June 26.—High above the twinkling lights of Courtenay, 2,000 feet above the placid waters of Comox Harbor, members of the Courtenay-Comox Board of Trade spent a most enjoyable evening at Forbidden Plateau Lodge on Tuesday. B. C. Nicholas was the guest speaker at a dinner arranged by the Tourist Trade Bureau of the board. About forty guests in some twelve cars climbed the switchback road, which has been greatly improved, and enjoyed an excellent dinner at the Lodge. Mayor Simps, of Courtenay, introducing the speaker, made it quite clear that "we have got the goods for the tourists, and the only thing stopping them now is lack of roads." He was in favor of the Government using the toll system for road improvement, and said that the city's bridge over the Toulum, and which was acquired by the city for one dollar, would cheerfully be turned over to the Government for fifty cents.

A HUMOROUS CONTRAST

Mr. Nicholas humorously described a former trip on horseback to the plateau in contrast to the comfortable ride he had just experienced, and attributed great credit to C. S. Wood, who had done so much to make the plateau so readily accessible to visitors. He described the Forbidden Plateau as the finest asset we have on Vancouver Island from many and diversified angles. Not least amongst these was the great benefit of the altitude for health and the scenic charm all its own. The whole island should get behind the development of this wonderful asset, and he would like to see Victoria put some capital into it and make it something the whole province may be proud of. The possibilities of winter sport development are also very important.

He described the people of Vancouver Island as pioneers of the tourist industry and gave comparative figures indicating the rise and fall of the business for the past several years. He impressed on the hearers the necessity of advertising our attractions abroad and said that the competition for the tourist industry has now become a fight.

A VITAL FACTOR

This tourist trade is a vital, fundamental contributory factor in the development of the country, said the speaker, and explained how the contact of different human beings from different parts of the world is of inestimable value to all concerned. While the development and improvement of our roads is of paramount importance, still we cannot expect to compete successfully with the 135 millions of people in the United States who are economically bound to develop a more perfect system of highways than those in Canada. Touching on recent tourist excursions, he paid a tribute to James Macfarlane, who was present, for the recent successful excursions on the E. & N. Railway.

Describing the various aspects of travel, he showed the economic value the tourist gives the places visited and the settlement of home-seekers that often results. The educational value of travel is also great. It shows the peoples of other places that we are not Eskimos living in igloos surrounded with eternal snow, and travel is an agency of incomparable value as a means of extending good will. It was a delightful experience to be comfortably dining at the entrance of the alluring, mystic and fascinating Forbidden Plateau with the most glorious panorama which it is possible for the human eye to behold, stretched out before the guest. The regular meeting of the Board of Trade which followed, was conducted with dispatch. Delegates for the annual meeting of the Associated Boards of Trade of Vancouver Island, to be held at Campbell River on July 11 and 12, were appointed in the persons of C. S. Wood, R. U. Hurford and E. F. Thomas.

with Ethiopia—now considered almost inevitable—break out. This might be done, these sources said, by formally accusing Ethiopia of not fulfilling conditions under which she entered the league, something Italian newspapers have recently asserted recently, thus enabling the Geneva body to wash its hands of any trouble with Italy.

BRITISH POSITION

LONDON, June 26 (AP)—The Government's position it could not approve an Italian mandate or protectorate over Ethiopia was apparently unchanged, tonight as Anthony Eden, his visit to Rome ended, departed for Paris en route to London.

PREPARING FOR DOMINION DAY

Ladysmith Arranging More Than Usually Ambitious Programme

LADYSMITH, June 26.—Preparations for the annual celebration of Dominion Day in Ladysmith are completed. It was reported at a general meeting of all committees this evening.

In some respects the programme for the day is slightly more ambitious than usual, with the prospect of the altitude for health and the scenic charm all its own. The whole island should get behind the development of this wonderful asset, and he would like to see Victoria put some capital into it and make it something the whole province may be proud of. The possibilities of winter sport development are also very important.

Parade arrangements anticipate one of the most colorful pageants ever staged in the city, led by the Ladysmith-South Wellington Band. A specially-decorated float in royal colors will bear the May Queen and her attendants to the main dais on the field, and already entries are announced for floats of many colors and in many guises. Hundreds of visitors, including some invited personalities, are expected to make Ladysmith their holiday centre on July 1.

ANGLO-GERMAN PACT OPPOSED BY FRANCE

A POTENTIAL ENEMY
During the debate, Earl Beatty, former chief of naval staff, said in the Far East "We live cheek by jowl with a potential enemy. Our possessions in Far Eastern waters are as great as the possessions of Japan, and our trade interests are as great. If not greater, than those of Japan."

Most outspoken critic of the Anglo-German agreement was Lord Lloyd, die-hard Conservative, who said its signing bewildered all Europe, but particularly France and Italy, "caused uneasiness and added to the already anxious situation abroad."

Lord Lloyd said he believed the agreement would lead to all-around armaments increases. He charged the pact would enfeeble Britain and strengthen forces bad for Britain and the world.

BILL IS APPROVED
PARIS, June 26 (AP)—Strengthening of the army, navy and air forces to offset Germany's rearmament was approved today by the Chamber finance committee, which reported favorably on the Government bill for emergency appropriations.

Colonel Jean Fabry, Minister of War, told of Germany's arms plans in asking 1,116,000,000 francs (about $72,900,000). Including 600,000,000 francs previously voted by the arms committee, for the manufacture of new armaments, equipment of front-

Upwards of fifty settlers and other interested parties attended a practical demonstration of canning fruits and vegetables given at the home of Hon. Dr. S. F. Tolmie, Cloverdale, recently, by Miss Jessie L. McLaughlin, director of Domestic Science in the Department of Education, and Mrs. J. D. Gordon, president of Provincial Women's Institutes.

Using fruits in season and early vegetables, the demonstrators gave a comprehensive review of practical canning methods for the benefit of an interested audience, including many from the Braefoot estate. The demonstration was one of a series organized by Dr. Tolmie for those engaged in farming in the area. Dr. Tolmie presided.

The note is in reply to Anthony Eden, Minister for League of Nations Affairs, suggestions made to Premier Pierre Laval during their recent talks in Paris.

Defeat U.S. Lacrosse Squad
In First of Trophy Series
By 15-7 Score

VANCOUVER, June 26 (AP)—A picked British Columbia squad tonight regained a measure of lacrosse prestige lost at Los Angeles in 1932 when they swept through an all-American inter-collegiate team to a 15-7 victory in the first of a five-game series for the Lally Trophy, emblem of international box lacrosse supremacy.

The larger but slower collegians were handicapped by the fact that it was their first try at the abbreviated indoor game and they were badly outmaneuvered until the final period when their sharpshooters began to find the Vancouver goal.

The victors smashed through the smaller Canadians in the opening period, bowling them over like nine-pins and leaving 7,000 fans dumb-founded, but wilted under the terrific pace.

Two Coast veterans, Haddie Stodard and Angie McDonald, who have been wounding the gutted stick for more than twenty years, played a prominent part in the Canadian triumph.

The monstrous Johnson in the American goal turned in a sparkling performance despite the fifteen goals that slipped by him. Literally showered with rubber he turned out a dozen shots a quarter.

Announcements

There is an Agony of Mind that only sensitive women who suffer from superfluous hair can understand. They distrust advertisements which offer instantaneous cures, having found the relief merely transitory. They rarely speak of their disfigurement, but just bear it in silence. To such women Miss to come and see her—they will meet with every kindness and consideration, and there will be no charge whatever for consultation.

was given by the Misses Margaret Bell and Elsie Walker, in honor of Miss Violet Clark, at "Dorchester" the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Bell. The shower was arranged as a fish pond, and the bride-to-be had to fish for the many and useful articles. Miss Clark is to be married early in July to Mr. M. Pullen. Invited guests were Mrs. Walker, Miss Violet Clark, Mrs. Edward Clapham, Misses Nora Helgeson, Sheila Pennington, Joan Rennison, Betty Leonard, Olive "Snider," Joan Pears, Katherine Milne, Peggy Higgs, Beryl Pearce and B. Johnson.

Mrs. M. Milne and her daughter

Katherine, will leave today for a short holiday at Campbell River.

Prison Changes Urged by Women

NANAIMO, June 26. — Closing their season's activities, Nanaimo Local Council of Women held a meeting in the Legion Hall on Monday, when reports were read by Mrs. A. Sandford and Mrs. D. W. Richards, delegates to the recent Provincial convention in Chilliwack.

A vote of thanks was passed to Mrs. A. Bain, of Vancouver, for billeting the delegates at her home.

The meeting reiterated its stand in favor of a resolution originating in Nanaimo L.C.W., asking for increased prison accommodation for women in British Columbia, with a view to abolishing the practice of sending women prisoners convicted for two years and more to Kingston prison, an arrangement made before the West sprang into being.

New York Day by Day

By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, June 26.—Diary: On a bus top to Hal Phyle's and a comedy lass across the aisle, forced with drink, suggested a magazine piece on modern manners—"Picked Peaches." Then to say hello to the Watersons Rothackers and Virginia and home, hearing my poor book had gone into the second edition the second day. By and by Ryley Cooper came bubbly with enthusiasm for his recent fling at reporting in Tacoma. So on a bargain safari with my wife and picked up a banjo clock, then to Maybelle Manning's to sit awhile. And walking toward 290 came upon the red-checked chef Oscar and the debonair Peter Arno.

Dinner on a Casina veranda and Grover Whalen there, the first time ever I saw him in mufti after 8 p.m. And talked a moment to Fifi Widener Wichefeld, fetching in a flame-red dotted Swiss evening gown. So to bed reading Dreiser's "Moods," of which he has more than anyone I know.

O. O. MCINTYRE

tophomoric caper Howard Acton, Don Allen and I used to indulge in Cincinnati. We would board a zoo-bound street car at the barn. Acton sitting one seat behind Allen up front and I in a rear seat. After a goodly number of passengers had been picked up, Acton would profess suddenly to recognize Allen and they embarked on a romantic blouze with loud references to their last meeting at a wild animal roundup on the African veldt. It was a routine of tall lying about trapping ferocious beasts. Finally Allen would inquire: "Whatever became of your white Malay body servant—the one whose tongue was cut out by the Uganda savages?" Acton would turn, clap his hands, and motion for me. And I would come up and mouth an inarticulate hoble gobble. We thought we were cards in quite an act. I wonder if we ever put it over!

Personal nomination for the ace of orchestra pianists—Eddie Duchin. It's been interesting to watch the flowering of young Eddie Duchin. Only a few years ago, at nineteen, he was helping to pay for a pharmacy course at Columbia by playing the piano evenings in Leo Reisman's orchestra. A gangling New England bumpkin who seemed mostly knuckles and teeth, he could make a piano go to town, a wizard at improvisation. Sid Solomon installed him as leader of an orchestra at the Casino. Today, at twenty-four, he has a $5,000-a-week income and is a star of the radio and an attraction that fills theatres on tour. He now wears evening clothes with the glossy nonchalance of Noel Coward, has mastered the art of small talk and has already sailed away in selected securities a quarter million. As an anti-climax he recently married the very accomplished and beautiful Marjorie Oelrichs, a Social Registerite and shining debutante of the top drawer set.

Judging from the next morning's critical blast from the most terrible play of this season was by a Bronx newspaperman about newspapermen and entitled "Them's the Reporters!" Some of its lines were so imperiously filthy that hardy old first nighters gulped and rushed out for air, holding their noses en route.

night curtain New York has ever known is Lupe Velez. The coquett, Katharine Cornell, Robert Cortes Holliday is regarded in France as one of America's best essayists. . . . Jim Corbett thought Albert Peyson Terhune the best amateur boxer with whom he ever traded swats. . . . Earl Carroll's name on the Whiter Garden sign is the biggest Broadway has ever seen—a block long.

A cross-my-heart true story: A roaming and gratuitous car shiner near Sherry's was polishing a parked car in hopes of the tip. The owner, arriving, handed out a coin. They glanced at each other. The polisher dropped the coin suddenly and walked stiffly away. They were classmates at college eight years ago.

That Body of Yours

(By James W. Barton, M.D.)

WE NEED VITAMIN B IN OUR FOOD

The principal foods which do not contain this important factor are starch, polished rice and white flour.

As you read the above paragraph, you realize that sugar, starch and white flour form a large part of our everyday diet and you naturally wonder what this important food factor can be.

It is known as vitamin B. It is a factor in the food which is necessary to maintain the health of the nervous system and brain, to create a natural appetite or desire for food, promote digestion of foods and get rid of food wastes by regular intestinal movements.

amount of their elements that may mean the difference between feeling well—all body processes working at their best—and feeling sluggish mentally and physically.

In countries where polished rice furnishes the main supply of food an ailment known as beri-beri is the most common cause of ill-health.

In this country, although we eat large amounts of sugar, starch and white flour, as a people we certainly do not suffer with beri-beri. This is because we eat enough of foods containing vitamin B to make up for the large amounts of sugar, starch and white flour eaten.

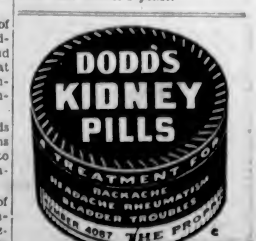

One of the first symptoms is loss of appetite, which returns immediately with the addition to the diet of food containing vitamin B.

them so much that constipation is the result.

That lack of vitamin B slows up mentally has been demonstrated in numerous experiments. Fortunately the great majority of us get enough vitamin B in our regular diet. Foods rich in vitamin B are eggs, cabbage, cauliflower, green peas, lettuce, green peppers, spinach, watercress, apples, bananas, cantaloupe, grapefruit, oranges, lemons, orange juice, peaches, tomatoes, brewer's yeast.

Among the richest sources are tomatoes, lettuce, oranges, grapefruit and brewer's yeast.

A second symptom is a loss of tone in the muscles of the intestines, which, while not paralyzing the intestinal movements, slows

NEW INSURANCE PLAN APPROVED

Blanket Scheme Is Finally Adopted by Victoria School Board

Following several months of intensive study by the members of the finance committee, the Victoria School Board, at a special meeting last night, adopted the "blanket plan" of insurance on school properties.

Under the new insurance scheme, the rate available to the board is set at fifty cents for the three-year period. The board also agrees to cover all school properties up to 90 per cent of their insurance value. This necessitates the placing of additional insurance on school properties in the amount of $392,450. The total cost of the new plan for three years is $4,550, as compared with $5,782.27 for the three years ending 1934.

The figures of insurance show a total valuation for buildings and contents of $1,000,845, requiring a total of insurance of approximately $910,000.

Police Head Goes Decidedly Fast By Own Account

VANCOUVER, June 26 (AP)—Strathcona Park, site of the proposed city hall, has been criticized as being too far from the centre of the city, and today aldermen wanted to know how long it took to get down town from the park.

Ald. H. D. Wilson said he traveled from the park to the present City Hall offices in three minutes. "Where were the police?" queried Ald. A. G. Harvey.

"Why, I've done it in a minute and a half," Mayor O. G. McGeer declared.

"And you chairman of the Police Commission," chided Ald. H. J. De Graves.

refused to permit the fine old cedars to be felled, and consequently there is today a grove of trees there equal to, if not better, than the famous Cathedral Grove, the Mayor said.

He drew attention to those present to three of the trees, which measured twenty-six feet, thirty feet and thirty-six feet in circumference, respectively.

"The public generally does not know what we have here in natural beauty, but I believe that this development work will attract more and more to this wonderful grove and picnic ground. It will take four or five years to develop this property to its fullest extent, and I hope the visitors will co-operate in every way by refraining from disfiguring or destroying any of the trees," the Mayor declared.

CO-OPERATION GIVEN

His worship then referred to the splendid co-operation that the City Council had received from Mr. MacPherson and his department. His department had agreed to spend $1,000 on the work, and also helped the city by loaning equipment.

In closing, the Mayor referred to the fact that the green pasture land at the mouth of Goldstream was at present Indian reserve property, although not in use. He expressed the hope that the Provincial Government would make application to the Dominion Government for a gift of this land, and that in turn the Provincial Government would lease it to the city on nominal terms, so that the city could complete development of the entire area.

Mr. MacPherson, in his address, said that what little his department had done had been carried out in a spirit of co-operation, which he was pleased to report had been reciprocated by the city in connection with the Island Highway work at Goldstream.

MODERNIZE ROAD

Twenty-two years ago the Island Highway was known as the Mill Bay Wagon Road. It had taken some time to develop the highway to the state it was today, and in rebuilding the washed-out portions, modern road construction had been carried out to the fullest extent, he declared.

As a consequence of the highway work that was done, many scars had been made in the banks on either side, but the department proposed to cover up these scars by planting creepers and other plants that would soon form a heavy growth. This, he believed, would be in keeping with the park development at Goldstream.

He congratulated the council on being park-minded, pointing out that this would prove a valuable tourist asset. He also commended the citizens generally upon the splendid manner in which they developed their own gardens and helped to make Victoria "the city beautiful."

COMMENDS WORKMEN

Alderman Hawkins, to whom all the speakers had referred in glowing terms for the personal interest he had taken in the work, concluded the ceremony by commending the workmen upon the fine job they had done. The Mayor also congratulated the men on their conscientiousness and efficiency.

Alderman Hawkins has practically lived on the job since it was started two months ago.

When the men were first put to work, the area was in a devastated condition due to the floods, with underbrush was cleaned out, weirs, or small dams, built to provide paddling pools for the children, and trails cleared through the groves. The weirs, with their foot-bridges, are particularly attractive, as the water flows over the dam to form a cascade on the other side.

PICNIC SPOTS

The rippling of the water over the rocky river bed sounds particularly musical as its sounds are echoed through the woodland. Shady green swards afford ample picnicking grounds for hundreds of persons, while sports facilities have been arranged. Horseback pitches are now being installed. The race track will be enlarged and regraded. An archery court also is being provided, while other developments will be carried out during the summer. A good road has been constructed right down to the flats, while an attractive log tea room has been built, with stone open fireplace. The entrance to the park has been widened and the road oiled and sandbed to keep the dust down.

Prior to the ceremony yesterday, several members of the council and Government officials had lunch at Colwood, while refreshments were provided for the public at the park.

TRUST FUND FOR DOG

CHICAGO, June 26 (AP)—A white Spitz dog, Pet, became heir to a $25,000 trust fund today with the filing of the will of Margaret McDermott, sixty-five, a spinster. Terms specify the money be used to keep Pet in the home of some woman who "loves dogs" and has no children.

BLANK SPOT ON MAP IS FILLED

Hitherto Unknown Peaks in Yukon Named for King and Queen

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP)—Elimination of a 2,000 square mile blank spot on the map of North America today was reported accomplished by a young explorer heading the National Geographic Society's Yukon expedition.

Two majestic peaks found in that area and located on maps for the first time were named for King George and Queen Mary in honor of their Silver Jubilee year. The King congratulated the expedition "on their important achievement in effecting the first crossing of the St. Elias range from Yukon to Alaska."

REPORTS TO SOCIETY

Bradford Washburn, leader of the expedition of seven, returned today to report to the society and assemble his findings. The group spent four months mapping and studying the area of Southwestern Yukon territory near the Klondike gold region immediately north of Juneau.

They reported aerial photographs of 10,000 square miles of rugged mountain regions and discovery of unknown mountain ranges. Washburn said they explored for the first

Suspended Sentence Is Granted to Youth

In the county court yesterday, Judge A. M. Harper presided at the trial of J. Effa, charged with having sold machinery and other junk which did not belong to him. His Honor said he would have to find the accused guilty of theft, but in view of all the circumstances, he felt that suspended sentence might be allowed.

Henry C. Hall, K.C., who appeared for the Crown, consented to this course and, accordingly, the young man was set at liberty.

H. W. Galloway, of Duncan, who appeared for the accused, stated the evidence showed that old iron had been lying unused for a long time and the youth considered he was not doing wrong in selling it. Excellent character was given the accused as a very industrious young man.

PREMIER RESTS ON PHYSICIAN'S ADVICE

OTTAWA, June 26 (AP)—Acting on the advice of his physician, Prime Minister R. B. Bennett remained away from his official duties this morning, and was in the House of Commons only a short time this afternoon.

A slight abdominal disturbance which was said to be not serious, coupled with a weakened condition arising from his recent illness, prompted the Prime Minister's medical adviser to order him to slow up.

DISASTERS OVERTAKE JAPANESE AVIATORS

TOKIO, June 26 (AP)—The Japanese army lost five flyers and three planes today in two disasters, bringing to a climax a fortnight of numerous accidents.

Loses Life When Police Van Burns

NIPIGON, Ont., June 26 (AP)—Engaged as temporary orderly, James Hall, sixteen, was burned to death when fire broke out in a Royal Canadian Mounted Police van here. The R.C.M.P. were away when the fire started last night, and Canadian National Railways Constable E. Alder was overcome by smoke in an attempt to rescue the youth. An inquest will be held.

OPERATION EXPLAINED

Standard Oil Company of B.C. Issues Information On New Industry

VANCOUVER, June 26.—There being no available supply of crude oil in British Columbia, this basic material will be imported by Standard Oil Company of British Columbia, Ltd., and here manufactured into gasoline, in accordance with the Provincial and Dominion policies of stimulating home industry and employment.

This crude oil is brought from California, in part, because of the recognized natural anti-knock superiority of California crudes. Incidentally the purchase of California crude oils, rather than those of other nations, constitutes a degree of reciprocity for the heavy tourist trade brought into British Columbia yearly through the efforts of the Evergreen Playground Association, and otherwise, besides producing a superior gasoline.

TRANSPORT TANKERS
Tankers carrying as much as 60,000 barrels of oil each trip will haul the crude oil to the new Standard Oil Pier, where it is pumped ashore into the receiving tank.

From this great tank the crude oil is fed into the distillation unit, where the oil is actually broken apart. Some of it becomes a crude form of gasoline. Some is separated into Diesel oils, some becomes fuel oil, and other similar separations take place. In all, some 500 products can be obtained from a barrel of crude oil, if the separation and refining processes are carried out far enough.

The crude gasoline, as it first comes from the crude oil can be made to operate a motor, and some gasolines go on the market at or near this stage of manufacture. They usually contain gummy impurities and are not capable of top performance.

The numerous good gasolines now on the market are refined to a much greater degree, at considerable additional cost to the manufacturer, in order to give motorists efficient clean-engine operation at all speeds and under all conditions, and to do this the leading companies in the industry have invested many millions, probably billions, of dollars in improved plants and equipment.

Standard gasoline is refined to such a point that there is a balancing of the factors important to the motorist—quick starting, acceleration, mileage and power.

THE NEW REFINERY
Facts about the new refinery of Standard Oil Company of British Columbia, Ltd., are as follows:
Cost—Between $400,000 and $500,000.
Completion—About December 1.

Location—The refinery is located in the municipality of Burnaby, bordering Burrard Inlet, beyond the Second Narrows Bridge. It is bounded by Carlton Avenue on the west, Willingdon Avenue on the east, McGill Street on the south and by the Canadian Pacific right-of-way on the north.

Area—Fifty-five acres.
Construction and Materials—All construction will be done by British Columbia or Canadian contractors and all materials possible will be purchased in the province.

Docking Facilities—A new wharf, 400 by forty feet, accommodating ocean-going tank ships.

Refinery Units—Distillation units feeding 3,000 barrels a day. Modern storage tanks, including the pontoon type floating roof tanks and an 80,000 barrel storage tank as well as other smaller ones.

Oil Stocks—Selected premium quality light California valley crudes of high anti-knock rating. The best California crude oils surpass all others in natural anti-knock qualities.

Type of Refining—Modern and entirely new units, designed especially for this plant, by experienced refinery engineers to make British Columbia gasoline, in British Columbia, for British Columbia motorists and fleet operators.

BOY ACTOR STAR IN TENSE DRAMA

"Wednesday's Child" Current Attraction at Playhouse Theatre—Comedy Added

A conquest of all filmdom in his debut picture is credited to Frankie Thomas, twelve-year-old star who has the title role in RKO-Radio's screen version of the reverberating stage sensation, "Wednesday's Child," opening today at the Playhouse Theatre.

The boy, known as "the wonder actor" in New York and other cities, is said to duplicate the triumph in the picture that was his on Broadway.

As a result of his remarkable performance, the studio has contracted for his services for a series of pictures.

"Wednesday's Child" is described as a film that will give many a hippo-skinned grown-up a rightful stab, and as an extraordinarily simple, yet deeply-touching story.

Edward Arnold and Karen Morley are featured. Robert Shayne and other favorites have important roles. John Robertson directed.

A miniature stage complete with footlights, orchestra pit, wings, proscenium arch, furniture and other stage paraphernalia, was the workshop of Jack Donohue, Fox Film director.

"Dick Turpin" Is
Columbia Picture

Twelve hundred extras took part in the execution scene in the Gaiety, a British picture, "Dick Turpin (Outlaw)," now playing at the Columbia Theatre.

This scene gives a vivid picture of the period of the story, when public hangings were a matter of every-day occurrence, when the idle looked upon it as an excellent means of diversion; when the huckster, the acrobat, and the puppet show proprietor took up their positions among the throngs around the gallows, and entertained the waiting populace. The gentry had seats in a stand at a guinea each.

This is the opening scene of "Dick Turpin." It sets the period and during the course of the proceeding, the hero, Dick Turpin, is introduced.

Victor McLaglen plays the role of the famous highwayman, Turpin. Jane Carr has the role of Eleanor Mowbray, his sweetheart. Others in the cast are Frank Vosper, Jimmy Finkelson, Cecil Humphreys, Gillian Lind, and Lewis Gilbert.

John Stafford and W. Victor Hanbury directed the film which was based on Harrison Ainsworth's famous book, "Rookwood."

CHAMAINUS, June 26.—Taking to the offerings of Beasley like a duck takes to water, McBride's Service Station ball-tossers drove him from the mound with a barrage of hits and nine runs in the first inning. To win the opening baseball fixture with Webster's Barber Shop, 11-8. Robinson followed Beasley to the slab and heaved good ball for the rest of the game. Horton did the heavy work for the gas boys, and although he was hit hard and often, he managed to stay out in front.

Four clubs: The Green Lantern Hotel, McBride's Service Station, Webster's Barber Shop and the Nipponis will play in the loop this season.

SARAZEN TRIUMPHS
FITCHBURG, Mass., June 26 (AP)—The 285-stroke record set by George Kerrigan back in 1922 was equalled today when Gene Sarazen gained the seventy-second hole Massachusetts open golf championship. He had a fourteen-stroke margin over the field that competed on the rugged Oak Hill golf course.

1. Since two spades would be sufficient to force, this double jump overcall was marked as a mere pre-empt.

2. The weak pre-empt was followed by its usual effect—it incited a laydown. The first trump lead, won by East's king, revealed the split. Thereafter all that East had to do was to knock out the two spades in the West-hand and ruff the third spade with the trump ace, gaining re-entry to finesse against the jack of trumps. East thus scored 740 points.

At the other table South was afraid that East could make his contract of four hearts and he therefore bid four spades, which West doubled. The defenders are still arguing over the extraordinary outcome.

THE PLAY
West opened the heart ace and South trumped. The second trick was a trump lead to the ace. South regained entry by ruffing a second heart to cash the trump king. On this trick North let go a diamond. South continued with a club and West held off. East dropped the eight-spot, commencing an echo to show his doubting. With some prevision of the future, declarer seized the opportunity to lead and ruff a third heart. On the ensuing club lead West again held off, for reasons best known to himself. Obviously the hold-off was futile if South held the diamond ace so that the diamond king was a re-entry, while if East held the diamond ace West could step right in with the club ace and lead diamonds through dummy.

Having seen East's echo, declarer was satisfied with the two club tricks already won. He led the fourth heart from dummy and ruffed. Staking all upon his conclusion as to the location of the spade queen and diamond ace, he led his last trump. West and North discarded clubs. East pounced on the trick and gleefully rashed his long heart. West was very unhappy, and, being compelled to throw a diamond, he decided to warn his partner not to play too fast and loose. He made the violent discard of the diamond queen, whereupon North of course, let go the jack club. East, in a complete fog, laid down the ace of diamonds—giving declarer contract for a score of 740.

Athletic Sports, Speeches
And Prize-Giving Held at Island College

The Brentwood College annual athletic sports and prize-giving took place on Saturday. The weather was fine and a large crowd of over 200 parents and friends of the school attended.

The sports resulted in a win for the Lower House over the Upper House by 49 points to 44. After the sports all adjourned to the gymnasium for the speeches and the prize giving. The headmaster, M. H. Ellis, gave a review of the year's activities in work and games, in both of which a satisfactorily high standard had been maintained.

The principal speaker, Lord Colville, addressed his remarks to the boys of the school. There were, he said, three types of boys, the prize-winners, the runners up and the plodders. To the prize-winners, he offered his congratulations; to the runners up he urged to remember the example of Capt. R. P. Scott, whose historic march to the South Pole was none the less great because he found on arrival that Amundsen had already reached it and won the prize; the plodders he encouraged with the assurance that they would get there in the end as long as they had the pluck to stick to it. Lastly, he charged the boys always to be proud of their school and to see to it that their school could be proud of them.

Dr. W. E. Scott-Moncrieff spoke a few words on behalf of the board of directors, mentioning among distinctions won by old Brentwood boys during the year the award of a Rhodes scholarship at Oxford, University to D. Wilson, of Edmonton, and the fact that Rocke Robertson was top of his year at McGill University.

The distribution of the prizes was followed by tea on the verandah, where an exhibition of woodwork and drawings done by the boys during the year attracted much attention.

A list of the prizewinners follows: Entrance form prizes, Digby and Drury; Grade IX, Aseltine; Grade X, R. Phillips; Grade XI, Nation and Duncan; Curtis mathematical prize, G. Phillips; languages prize, Symons; English prize, Kidd; science prize, Izard; senior reading prize, Kidd; junior reading prize, R. Phillips; hobby prizes, Andrus, Cooke and Clist; badminton singles, Barrett-Lennard; tennis doubles, Williams and Barrett-Lennard; cross country, senior, Kld; cross country, junior, Field; swimming, senior, Williams; swimming, junior, P. Angus; Junior Challenge Cup, Field; Victor Ludorum, Kidd; Yarrow Shield, Kidd and Barrett-Lennard; Inter-House Cup won by Lower House.

RESOLUTIONS OF BOARD ENDORSED

Shawnigan Delegates Appointed for Coming Convention to Be Held At Campbell River

SHAWNIGAN LAKE, June 26.—

Many important issues were discussed at the recent monthly meeting of the Malahat Board of Trade, held in the S.L.A.A. Hall, Shawnigan. The president, William Mudge, occupied the chair. The resolutions to be dealt with at the annual convention of the Associated Boards of Vancouver Island were discussed, and all endorsed, including the resolution of the Malahat Board, seeking the co-operation of the Provincial Government and the B.C. Telephone Company in the matter of telephone service over the Malahat.

H. E. Hawking and P. M. Gannon were appointed delegates to the convention to be held at Campbell River, July 11 and 12. The president and secretary will also attend. The deplorable condition of the Mill Bay and West Arm Roads, and the dust nuisance of the West Side Road were reported by the public works committee. The public works department will be urged to improve these conditions.

Correspondence was read from the Tourist Trade Development Association, asking co-operation and financial assistance in advertising local attractions. A committee was found to canvass the district and a public meeting will be called. A resolution of appreciation of B. A. McKelvie's article on Vancouver Island was passed. The fish and game committee reported good fishing in the lake and suggested that an inquiry be sent to Major J. A. Motherwell, Dominion supervisor, as to the introduction of a suitable fish food to result in a much larger trout. The reasons for steelhead and trout fishing were reported by official information, to run concurrently. Progress was reported in the arrangements for the annual beach picnic to be held at the lake on August 9.

An interesting and informative address on the presumable status of British Columbia as a separate Dominion was given by W. E. Frazer.

C. M. Robertson was elected a member of the board.

CELONA'S CASE UNDER REVIEW

Court of Appeal Hears Plea Of Stuart Henderson on Behalf of Appellant

The appeal against the convictions of Joe Celona in Vancouver on immoral charges opened here yesterday in the British Columbia Court of Appeal, with Celona appearing in court under Provincial Police guard. In spite of his efforts to obtain bail, trouble arose over the providing of satisfactory sureties, so the appellant is in custody.

Stuart Henderson, counsel for the appellant, is assisted by A. E. Branca, while Dugald Donaghy, K.C., and E. A. Dickie appear for the Crown, opposing the appeal. On the charge of having lived on the earnings of prostitution and to having run a disorderly house which accounted for eleven years of the total of twenty-one years Celona was sentenced to serve, Mr. Henderson argued all day yesterday that the case was based upon wrong foundations.

He argued that the two girls, whose evidence the case was alleged to have been proved in the main, were girls that were engaged in prostitution long before Celona came into the picture.

The trial judge, Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald, had in his charge to the jury cast contempt upon the appellant when he told the jury that the accused was entitled to the same trial as any other accused person when he dealt with the charges of procuring, counselling, or assisting in prostitution.

Mr. Henderson said, to show that the appellant derived any money from the avenue charged.

The appeal will be proceeded with this morning.

What Today Means

"CANCER"

If June 27 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9:45 to 11:45 a.m., from 1:45 to 3:45 p.m., and from 6:45 to 8:45 p.m. The danger periods are from 6:45 to 8:45 a.m., from 3:45 to 5:45 p.m. and from 8:45 to 10:45 p.m.

It will pay you to do some constructive thinking this day. A few minutes spent in serious self-analysis, or honest introspection, cannot help prove of value. Shortcomings and errors of judgment can be corrected only through clarity of thought. Business transactions will require careful attention. The use of a tactful amount of aggressive enthusiasm should prove helpful. Money will probably be made only by those of a "go-getter" type of salesman. Those depending on the telephone for accomplishment are more than likely to miss the opportunities often presented where a personal interview can be obtained. If invited to a social affair be careful that offence is not given by becoming too much absorbed in paying attention to some one person, thus overlooking the courtesy due to some of the guests. Married and engaged couples, and those seeking to create a favorable impression, with ambitious hopes to spur them on in their endeavor, will do well to think twice this day before giving vent to any unkind remarks, especially if they involve mutual friends, or relatives.

If a woman, and June 27 is your birthday, should you have a decidedly combative disposition, you will be much happier if you learn to suppress it. Avoid trying to regulate the lives of other people. It will save you much unhappiness if you bear in mind that everyone has his own salvation to work out, and you cannot do it for him. You are courageous, as well as shrewd. The opportunity may come which will enable you to make a considerable amount of money, through legitimate business channels. Office, specialty shop, as well as tearoom management, or some branch of journalism, may provide the medium through which success will come to you. You should find happiness through matrimony.

The child born on June 27, generally from the time it passes from infancy to childhood, gives evidence of possessing a fearless spirit, as well as a high regard for the truth. If a man, and June 27 is your natal day, you may be a natural born fighter, but have wisdom enough not to indulge in this proclivity except where a principle is involved. It will be probably through writing, law, medicine, engineering, or salesmanship, that you will achieve financial success.

Tangled Love

by Margaret Gorman Nichols

Jessica had broken her spirit and made her an instrument of her plans and ambitions. But her thoughts invariably came back to Scott. Scott smiling—white teeth against a brown face. Scott acquitting through cigarette smoke. His deep laughter. His intense eyes.

Moved over by her feelings than by her mind, she got up and went downstairs. She did not knock at his door, but opened it and stood there, a shadowy figure with luminous eyes, looking at him as he bent over his work.

She thought, "I love this man. I shall love him always. And I would gladly share his life and his poverty and struggles because loving him is the only thing that matters. Tonight—now—I make a solemn promise to myself that I will never accept a substitute for what I want. I would never give any man half a love and I shall never love anyone but Scott."

He looked up and saw her outlined against the door. He saw her brown face, her tragic-dark eyes fringed by thick lashes, the know. What a strange family these Stuarts were.

"I think it has stopped raining," she said, and walked to the window and looked out to the garden. Scott followed and stood over her, looking out in the thick mist.

"Did you know," she said, "that this room was our drawing-room?" The piano used to be where your desk is. I remember my mother sitting there, playing. When she looked at my father, no one else existed for her. I was just wondering what she would say if she knew."

"She might be glad," trying to lighten her mood, "that you broke away."

"She had to die to break away. Aunt Jessica made her life miserable. I can't understand anyone who takes delight in making other people unhappy."

"Noel," his hand on her shoulder, "that's over. You must try to be happy."

"I'm happy with you." She turned her face toward him and her eyes were shining. "Scott, I always want to remember you like this, as you are tonight in this room, just the two of us."

"I always think of you as you were the first time I saw you in your white dress and white beret. You've been in everything I've thought of and written since."

"Promise me that no matter what happens, we'll always be like this."

Paint pastel colors streaked the twilight sky as Noel walked from the bus station to the old house on Cathedral Street, carrying a suitcase, which seemed to increase in weight with every city block.

There was no doubt in her mind that Linda would take her in. She would find a job of some sort, make her own living, live her own life. She would miss the sunshine of the island, the view of the bay from her attic room and—Elmor. The thought that her sister had watched her go so heartlessly, so coldly, brought tears that stung her eyes. But, quick to find excuses for the sister she had idealized, she told herself that Aunt Jessica had forbidden Elmor to have a part in the painful scene. She must not think of Elmor, secure in the house on the island, and secure in her aunt's affections. She must summon all her courage.

She walked up the front steps, opened the door, and stepped into the dark hall. She gave a gasp, and looked at the door of Scott's apartment. Behind that door he worked. Behind that door... what did he think? Whom did he love?

At the door of Linda's apartment she paused a moment and looked in. Linda said, "Come in," and Noel walked in, a pathetic looking figure, with earnest, bewildered eyes.

Linda came toward her. "What's wrong, dear? Is anything wrong?" Noel? Darling, you look so... Noel went into a room that was as meagrely furnished as Scott's, only in this room there were many pictures about. She put down the suitcase. "I've left, Aunt Jessica."

Linda nodded her curly red head. "Oh, I see. You mean she found out about us?" Noel's eyes were wreathed.

"No, not just that. I—I was always doing the wrong thing. It was bound to come to this. I—"

"You poor child," Linda's thin arms went about her. "Yes, I understand. You're a misfit there because you follow your own impulses. They make you feel you are doing the wrong thing when you are really the only honest one of them. They make you feel miserable and wrong when they are because I know, my dear, I left home because my father and stepmother couldn't understand a girl who wanted to be an artist. Yes, I understand perfectly."

The light in the large almost bare room was so dim Noel could scarcely see Linda's face.

"I had to come to you. I had nowhere else..."

"Why not? Linda gave a cheerful, optimistic little laugh. "Your place is with us—with Scott and Ned and me. We share everything. If I sell a picture, I take them to dinner. If they sell a story, they take me. Have you had dinner?" Noel shook her head.

"Then we'll go out at once. Scott and Ned and I stopped at a cafe on our way back from the island." She went to the closet and got her hat. "There's a restaurant around the corner."

Noel ate hungrily, and Linda, smoking her eternal cigarette, watched her tenderly. Poor little kid, so young and sensitive, who had so much to give to life, so much to learn from it.

"Thanks," said Noel after dessert. "I—I can't pay. It took all I had to pay the bus fare."

"You can pay me back when I'm broke," Linda said. "Don't feel bad about this."

They walked back to the old house without speaking. The night was very warm and a storm was brewing.

Linda unpacked Noel's suitcase and hung her dresses in the closet. "Dear," she said when that was done, "don't look so tragic. We'll find you a job."

"I wanted to work, but Aunt Jessica wouldn't hear of it."

Linda avoided the subject of Elmor. She talked with Noel until eight o'clock when a young man came to take her to the theatre.

"He's a nice chap," said Noel. "But I'm not in love with him. We're just friends. I hate to leave you alone, but he has the tickets and I've been putting him off."

Linda gave her a book and some new magazines, made her promise that she would not brood, and left with the young man, saying, as she went out, "Scott should be in around ten. If you're lonesome, go down to see him. Get a lot of sleep, darling, and tomorrow we'll put four heads together and get down to brass tacks."

And at the mention of Scott, Noel's eyes made that never-failing response to his name which Linda saw and understood.

Noel sat alone in the studio, hearing the patter of rain on the windowpanes. She thought of Stephen, who comforted her, and of Scott, who warmed her spirit and whose casual touch made her warm and alive. She thought of Elmor; she was to be pitied, not hated, Aunt

Y.M.C.A. CAMP PLANS ARE SET

Expect Fifty Boys Each Week at Annual Outing—Leaders Named

With fifty boys anticipated for each of the two weeks, plans were well in hand last night for the annual Y.M.C.A. Summer camp, to be held this year at Glinz Lake, in the Sooke Hills, from July 8 to 22 inclusive. It was announced by Vivian Shoemaker, association boys' work secretary and director of the camp.

Applications to attend the camp, which is restricted to boys between the ages of twelve and seventeen years, must be in Mr. Shoemaker's hands by July 3, he stated.

Leaders for the camp have been announced, and average one senior leader to every six lads in camp. These include Lynn Patrick, member of the Rangers Hockey team, of New York; Albert Martin, of the Blue Ribbons basketball team; Harry Dobson, Harold Rose, Leslie Clough, Hugh Linnell, Charles McLeod, Grant Paterson and Joe Roberts.

An advance party of six seniors will move into the camp on Saturday and will conduct a week's intensive clearing of the land in order to place marquees and sleeping accommodation in position. The camp will be blazed and a well will be installed to insure fresh, pure drinking water for the campers.

Film Executive's Secretary Here Tells Why No Pictures Made On Island

"If Canada lifted the embargo upon motion picture cameras and sound equipment from the United States, many pictures and short takes would be made on Vancouver Island," declared Miss Betty Mathurin before sailing from here aboard Ss. H. F. Alexander on Tuesday evening.

For nine years Miss Mathurin has been executive secretary to William Koenig, general manager of Warner Brothers, First National and Vitaphone Corporation, at Hollywood. She arrived in the city from Banff and spent three days at the Empress while touring the lower end of the island.

Miss Mathurin expressed delight with her stay here, stating that hundreds more Californians would visit Victoria if they were told of its charms. Warner Brothers' latest production, she said, was "A Midsummer Night's Dream," starring James Cagney, Joe E. Brown and Miss Olivia de Havilland. Miss Mathurin left here provided with a parcel of publicity Bureau literature and photographs, and announced her intention of visiting the city again in December.

"I love you," she said. "It does not matter now whether you love me or not. But I love you so much, so much."

dark hair curled at the ends. He understood. There had been a scene and she had been sent away—perhaps for good. She had come to her only friends...

Would anyone ever understand her? Would any man understand that beneath that perfect body, the perfect pose, the earnestness, was a deep and passionate nature? Noel was capable of so much more than anyone dreamed of.

He heard the rain beating on the windows and it seemed to press them together. He got up, moved toward her in the faint light. And he was thinking, "She is so lovely, so unconsciously lovely. I have never looked at her mouth, whether it was grave or laughing, that I have not wanted to kiss it. She told me today that no man had ever kissed her."

When he came to the door he closed it. He stood over her, took her in his arms, and felt her body tremble at his touch. Noel put her arms around him and pressed her face against him.

"I love you," she said. "It does not matter now whether you love me or not. But I love you so much, so much."

He laid his lips on hers and her lips responded.

Scott took her face tenderly between his hands and kissed her lips again. They stood immovable in the half darkness.

"I haven't loved you until now," he said deeply. "I have thought of you continually and I have wanted to kiss you." He touched her face again and smiled. "You are kissed now."

"By you."

He caught her up again swiftly in his arms and closed his eyes at her nearness.

"I told you once before that you would be hurt by love because you expected too much of it. Noel, you are so young, so sincere."

"Be honest with me."

"Then I must tell you that I am not sure of loving you. When I saw you standing there, I wanted to make love to you. You looked so forlorn and sad, and I wanted to help you. I know that you love me. I couldn't help but know. Noel, I've thought that I've been in love before, but when it was over I knew it wasn't the real thing. I've kissed other girls, but it wasn't the same as when I kissed you."

"You're trying to tell me..."

"That I'm not sure what I feel for you is love, the genuine thing, and I want to be very sure. You're the finest person I know, and your loving me makes me both humble and proud."

"I had to tell you."

"Marriage for me at the present time is out of the question. I'd never ask any girl to share..."

"But I'd do it gladly."

"I know you would. But you are very young. I'm the first man to kiss you, the first man you've loved."

"The only one." She turned her head aside, and he saw that her lashes were wet. "You see," she said, "I love you because you are the only person I've ever known who hasn't disappointed me."

She was thinking of her sister, he knew. He had seen Elmor in a car, had remarked to Ned what a gloriously beautiful creature she was, and had thought of her later as being one of those unapproachable women men think of but rarely

Pittsburgh Pirates Climb Into Second Berth in National

Takes Double-Header From Lowly Boston Braves to Pass St. Louis in Standings—Lloyd Waner Stars in Opener—Giants Beat Cubs—Cardinals Downed by Dodgers

NATIONAL LEAGUE

BOSTON, June 26 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates climbed into second place in the National League here today, as they humbled the luckless Boston Braves by scores of 4-2 and 5-1. Guy Bush, former Cubs' right-hander, held the triple play in the opener, one of which was Wally Berger's fourteenth home run of the season.

The Pirates took a three-run lead in the third inning on Jensen's single to right, after which Paul "Big Poison" Waner doubled and "Pep" Young hit a home run over the fence close to the foul line in left field. Bill McKee, Braves' mentor, protested Young's hit so vigorously, Umpire George Maguire finally ordered "n off the field."

Lloyd "Little Poison" Waner rapped out a two-bagger, singled stole a base, scored a run and made nine putouts in the first game.

Bill Swift took up the pitching duties for the Pirates in the second game, and let the home club down with four scattered singles and a result of a bad throw by "Cookie" Lavagetto, Pirate second baseman.

First game: R. H. E. Pittsburgh 4 11 1 Boston 2 6 1 Batteries—Bush and Grace; Cantwell, Frankhouse and Hogan.

Cardinals Will Oppose Nainimo In Double Bill

NORTHFIELD Blue Ribbons, smart Nainimo fair sex softball nine, will be seen in action here Monday when they stack up against Kresge's Cardinals, undefeated leaders of the local league, at Central Park, in a twin bill. The first game is scheduled to commence at 2 o'clock and the second battle will follow immediately. The Up-Islanders are reported to have a well-balanced club and should give the local leaders plenty of good opposition.

EAGLES TASTE FIRST DEFEAT OF CAMPAIGN

Suffer 12-1 Setback at Hands of Canadians—Walker in Form

LEAGUE STANDING

	W.	L.	Pct.
Eagles	5	1	.833
Sons of Canada	4	2	.667
Tillamooks	3	3	.500

Next game, tomorrow—Tillamooks vs. Navy, Royal Athletic Park, at 6 o'clock.

With "Sonny" Walker, teen-aged mound ace pitching five-hit ball, Sons of Canada turned on the heat yesterday evening at the Royal Athletic Park and handed the Eagles, Commercial League leaders, a 12-1 shellacking. It was the first setback of the season for the feathered tribe and considerably tightened up the pennant chase for the A. E. Humphries Cup.

Robbed of a shutout when the Eagles pushed across their lone marker in the fifth frame, the youngsters worked in fine form all evening—five hits, five runs, three errors and one walk.

Joe Emery, in his first starting assignment for the Eagles, bumped into trouble early and often, and when the veteran George Gandy tripled to left field in the fifth with the cushions loaded, it was Emery's signal to leave the mound. "Barney" Barnswell took up the heavy duties from this stage, and held the Canadians in check for the remainder of the distance.

The Sons of Canada played smart ball all of the way, and once they were out in front they seemed to have the situation well in hand, with the Eagles' offensive being weak against the hurrying of "Sonny" Walker, young twirler.

The senior trial last year was won by W. Beaumont, while Neil Duval, winner of The Colonist bicycle road race in 1934, won the junior event.

BENEFIT SOFTBALL

A benefit softball fixture will be played tomorrow evening on the corner of Quadra and Market Streets to Pole 6025, which is three-quarters of a mile past Saanichton, and return.

SCHMELING OR BAER WILL BE NEXT IN LINE

Two Former Champions to Be Given Chance to Meet Joe Louis

By EDWARD J. NEIL

Associated Press Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, June 26 (AP)—Next test for slugger Joe Louis, the big Joe Gans of negro fighters, will be either Max Schmeling or Max Baer—and it's to be a question of first come first served with the prospect of a $750,000 gate, no matter which one draws the assignment.

Mike Jacobs, promoter of Louis' crushing six-round victory over massive Primo Carnera, before 57,000 persons in the Yankee Stadium last night, put it just that way today as the twenty-one-year-old negro, $44,636.16 added to his bankroll, listened to nothing but songs of his greatness.

Baer, who said last night he would fight Louis in September, wasn't so sure today, and with his manager, Arnold Hoffman, spent considerable time and worry about the condition of his hands, injured when he lost his heavyweight title to James Braddock two weeks ago.

Baer talked of the necessity of an operation that would put him on his shelf for the rest of the season. He seemed tremendously impressed with the hitting powers of the young negro.

Joe Jacobs, manager of Schmeling, booked passage Friday on the Europa for Germany, confident the fighter, heavyweight champion, would return with him immediately after his match with Paulino Uzcudun in Berlin, July 7.

George Bone, retiring vice-president, was re-elected for another year. Other officers are: Secretary-treasurer, M. Bradford; women's captain, Mary Dolores; men's captain, Victor Little; social committee, Mrs. E. Peden and Victor Little.

TO Igor Sikorsky, a Russian engineer, who struggled valiantly during the war to obtain recognition for his designs, goes the palm for building the first airplane to carry more than one engine. His earliest experiments date back to 1911.

His first successful attempt to fit two engines and two propellers to one airplane was made in 1916 during the World War. Afterward he succeeded in producing a large biplane with four 120 h.p. engines, spaced equidistantly along the front edges of the bottom wing. Theoretically it could fly on any two of its engines. It had an enclosed cabin and could carry twenty people.

Sikorsky and a corps of White Russians emigrated to the U.S.A. following the revolution, and set up shop in a small hangar on Long Island. Their first effort was a twin-engine transport plane of unusual performance, which appeared all over the U.S.A., finally expiring in a predetermined crash for the movies.

Sikorsky has since become one of America's foremost designers, sticking to big ships, his early love.

DAD
The expression Dad is as old as the institution fatherhood. Certainly, as far back as we can trace recorded language, we find words of its type and form, all originating, without doubt, in infantile or childish speech.

The variations of Dad uniformly indicate the common source. Thus, we have the Irish dad, the Gaelic daidrin, the Welsh tad of which the English dad was erroneously thought to be a mutilation, the Old Latin, Greek and Sanskrit tata, and, of course, last but not least, our own diminutive daddy.

An early English use is by Skele-ton in 1529: "Now God save these daydes and all their yong babies."

Overcrowding of River Boat Cause Of Many Deaths

HONGKONG, June 26 (P.M.)—The M.S. San Junon, carrying 260 passengers on the Canton River, carrying 140 persons to death.

Authorities attributed the tragedy to the increasing competition between highway and river transportation, resulting in radical reductions of steamer fares and the consequent overcrowding of river boats.
